The Cottige by the Sea.

Childhood's days now pass beforeme, Forms and econes of long ago, Like a dream they haver o'er me, Calm and bright as everdag's glore. Days that know no shade of serrow. When my young heart, pure and free,
Joyful halled each coming morrow,
in the cottage by the sea.

Fancy sees the rose trees twining
Itoond the old and restic door.
And below, the white beach chining.
When I gather shells of yore;
Hear my mother's gentle warning.
As che took me on her knee;
And I feel again life's morning.
In the cottage by the sea.

What though years have rolled before me Though 'and falrer scenes I roam, Yet I ne'er shall cease to love thee,

1 hildhood's dear and happy home I
And when life's long day is closing.

O, how pleasant would it be,
